SUSPICION.

He was a jolly fellow,
With clothes that fit him fine.
He is the chap who sold me
This new gold brick of mine.
And now I take no chances,
I never tell my name,
But always greet a stranger
With, "Mister, what's your game?"

The people once were trustful,
And when a speaker told
His plans to make them happy
And fill their chests with gold
They welcomed every promise,
With heartiest acclaim,
And never once felt tempted
To ask him, "What's your game?"

But now it doesn't matter
How eloquence may roar,
Men shake their heads and murmur,
"We've heard such things before."
Your purpose may be noble,
Deserving naught of blame,
But men are almost certain
To query, "What's your game?"

As soon as a wheel strikes the "dog" the bell where the operator is begins to ring, disturbing his little trance. The Company is doing everything possible to avoid accidents.

LOST HIS WALLET.

A Driver Gets Some Money From Dr. B. F. Eckman of Fleming.

The Fleming Gazette says Dr. B. F. Eckman was driven home from this city last Friday in a lively rig from Moss Daulton & Bro's.

Shortly after arriving there he missed his pocketbook, and at once telephoned the authorities here.

The driver who took the Doctor to Flemingsburg was arrested on returning home and on his person was found about $17 of the missing money.

THE LONDON SUCCESS.

"A Wise Woman," Coming to Maysville on Saturday, October 21st.

One of the strongest combinations touring this season has been secured as the attraction at Washington Opera-house next Saturday, matinee and night.

The company referred to is headed by Miss Marie Lamour, heretofore a prominent and attractive member of Augustin Daly's Company. The play through which Miss Lamour will be introduced to our theater-goers is Wilfred Clark's great London comedy success, "A Wise Woman." Miss Lamour and her company has been accorded the highest praise everywhere they have appeared, and it is claimed for them that they take a high position among the standard metropolitan attractions of the day.

Frederic J. Murphy, whose splendid talents are well known to many patrons of the drama and who last season occupied the important position of leading man for Julia Mariow, has been engaged to appear in the same capacity with Miss Lamour's organization. The balance of the supporting company is said to be of an equally high order of merit. Mr. Clark, who did the staging of his comedy when it was put on at the Strand Theatre in London where it ran for 738 nights, has looked after this important detail for Miss Lamour. Reserved seats on sale at Neilson's tomorrow morning.

Nature can only feed the flame of life with the food eaten which is digested. Herbine will reinvigorate a weak stomach, and so improve digestion as to insure the natural bloom of health. Price 50 cts. J. Jas. Wood & Son.

SPLENDID ORATORY.

Hon. E. T. Franks Speaks Here Last Night For Republicanism to a Big Crowd.

Full of sound arguments.

Hon. E. T. Franks of Owensboro did not disappoint a large and appreciative audience that assembled at the Courthouse last evening.

His reputation as a stump speaker had preceded him and he fully sustained every claim throughout his speech of two hours.

Without tedious and tiresome reference to books and papers he cited all the important facts connected with the Democratic administration of Kentucky, and compared them with the present Republican administration, in every case making a strong showing in favor of the latter.

Throughout Mr. Franks made a most convincing argument, and it does seem strange how people who know the facts and have any consideration for honesty and fair dealing can stillify themselves by supporting Goebelism and all that it implies.

Mr. Franks left this morning for Mt. Olivet where he speaks this afternoon.

Major S. R. Crumbaugh, Supervising Inspector of Steam Vessels, is just now coming in for a great deal of adverse criticism from certain pilots. Major Crumbaugh, while in Pittsburgh a few days ago, is said to have given it as his opinion that the Pittsburgh pilots are liable to lose their licenses on account of the strike now on at Pittsburgh. Of course Major Crumbaugh was misunderstood. Everybody knows that a pilot has the same right as any other American citizen to ask for and get higher wages if he can, and the idea of taking his license away from him because he engages in a movement for bettering his own condition is preposterous. What Major Crumbaugh probably meant was that where a pilot breaks his agreement and deserts a steamer, or refuses, while under an agreement, to work with another man because that man is not a union man, the pilot may then be jerked up by the authorities and charged with conspiracy. As it is, a number of pilots at Pittsburgh have been hired by the year. As a matter of course, they must work until their contracts expire; but the greater number of pilots are not hired at all, and are on a strike for higher wages. They have a right to refuse work if they choose. The pilots want $200 a trip to Louisville and $150 a trip to Cincinnati, and the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company, which now owns all the towboats at Pittsburgh, says it will not pay it.

How the Slippery Senator Was Carrying Water on Both Shoulders.

Louisville Post.

Mr. Goebel has not replied to Mr. Carlisle for Mr. Carlisle has not accused Mr. Goebel.

Mr. Goebel accuses himself. Mr. Carlisle did not bring to public attention Mr. Goebel's treachery in 1896.

It was Mr. Goebel himself. On the stump he boasted that he had taken from Mr. Carlisle's own home an uninvited delegation to the State Convention, and voted it against Judge Humphrey and Mr. Carlisle.

Mr. Carlisle never denied that fact. He never made any comment upon it. The man who accuses Mr. Goebel wrote a letter to Mr. Carlisle under date of May 23d, 1896. When Mr. Goebel boasted of his loyalty to Bryan, and his devotion to Freedmen, Mr. Carlisle merely published Mr. Goebel's letter, showing Mr. Goebel's boasted loyalty was perjury and his devotion dishonor.

The case is too plain for any doubt as to Mr. Goebel's part in the comedy. He was plotting against Carlisle in Frankfort and then running to Washington to secure Mr. Carlisle's assistance in defeating Mr. Harvey Meyers's delegation, instructed for "Silver, Blackburn and Hardin." It is William Goebel of 1896 refuting the claims made at Versailles by William Goebel in 1896, and holding up this later Goebel to the execration of mankind.

NEWSY NOTES FROM NATURE'S GREAT HIGHWAY.

The big wharfbost recently sunk at Memphis is afloat.

Pilot Al Smith, a well known Southern Pilot, is dead at Helena, Ark. He was known up this way too.

Petitions have been signed by 121 Pittsburgh Pilots pledging themselves to stand by the recent wage scale.

Steamboats on the Southern waters are still having trouble with the darkey roustabouts. They now refuse to work for $75.

Firemen of steamers at Pittsburgh are talking of organizing and asking for a charter. The men are now getting $40 and want $50 or $60.

Three hundred dynamite blasts were discharged on the Louisville falls Monday, where the Government is improving the river.

Yesterday's rain was general, and it will have a good effect on the river as most any little rain will cause a little rise, which is appreciable.

Petitions have been signed and sent to every Congressman in Indiana asking their support in passing a bill to make the White river, a Lower Ohio tributary, navigable the entire year.

Rivermen are flocking in the direction of Louisville. The Ohio River Improvement Association will meet there today and tomorrow. Delegates will be entertained with a boarsteak and a banquet after they have completed their work.

Louisville Commercial.—The little steamer Alma, of the Evansville Mail Line, was the only arrival from the lower Ohio on Sunday, and her officers report the apple orchards in the bonds below full of Chicago older fermenting machines, and apple juice is being shipped from that region instead of apples.

The Chicago people take the apple juice to the windy city and put it through a process of refining and fermenting, after which they produce a champagne from it that is said to equal the best made in France. All kinds of old apples go into the mill except the most fancy ones, and these are shipped to sell at fancy prices. After the last drop of juice is extracted, the pulp is dumped into large cauldrons and covered with water, and from this the operators make vinegar, which is sold for more money than the crop of fruit cost at first.
